Effective Date: 11/1/2018

Description:

Due to the tremendous storm damage caused by Hurricane Michael, the Florida Trail remains CLOSED from Econfina Creek to the Ochlockonee River. FTA staff and volunteers will begin to assess trail conditions and plan repairs once these areas are deemed safe to access by their respective land managers.

Numerous previously closed areas impacted by the storm have now been reopened. These include Pine Log State Forest, the eastern Wakulla Ranger District portions of the Apalachicola National Forest, St. Marks National Wildlife Refuge, and the Aucilla Wildlife Management Area. While these areas are now open to the public, conditions along the trail will be difficult until sawyer crews can clear the many blowdowns resulting from the storm.
